the artists art fair

ARTWORK BY DOMINIC BEYELER

➳⟶➤ The art fair built around people, connection and discovery. Personal, open and established since 2009.

01 — Artists

The artists come first.

We put the creatives at the heart of it all! An art fair doesn't begin with exhibition booths, but with artists – their personalities, their ideas, and the encounters they create with other people.

That's why at stroke, it's not just the artworks that take center stage, but above all the artists themselves.

02 — Connection

Meet, collaborate and sell.

In a world where most artists have to manage themselves and communicate primarily through screens, we create a space for what rarely happens digitally: real connections between artists, visitors, curators, buyers, and collectors.

These connections lead to collaborations, new opportunities, and sales.

03 — BELONGING

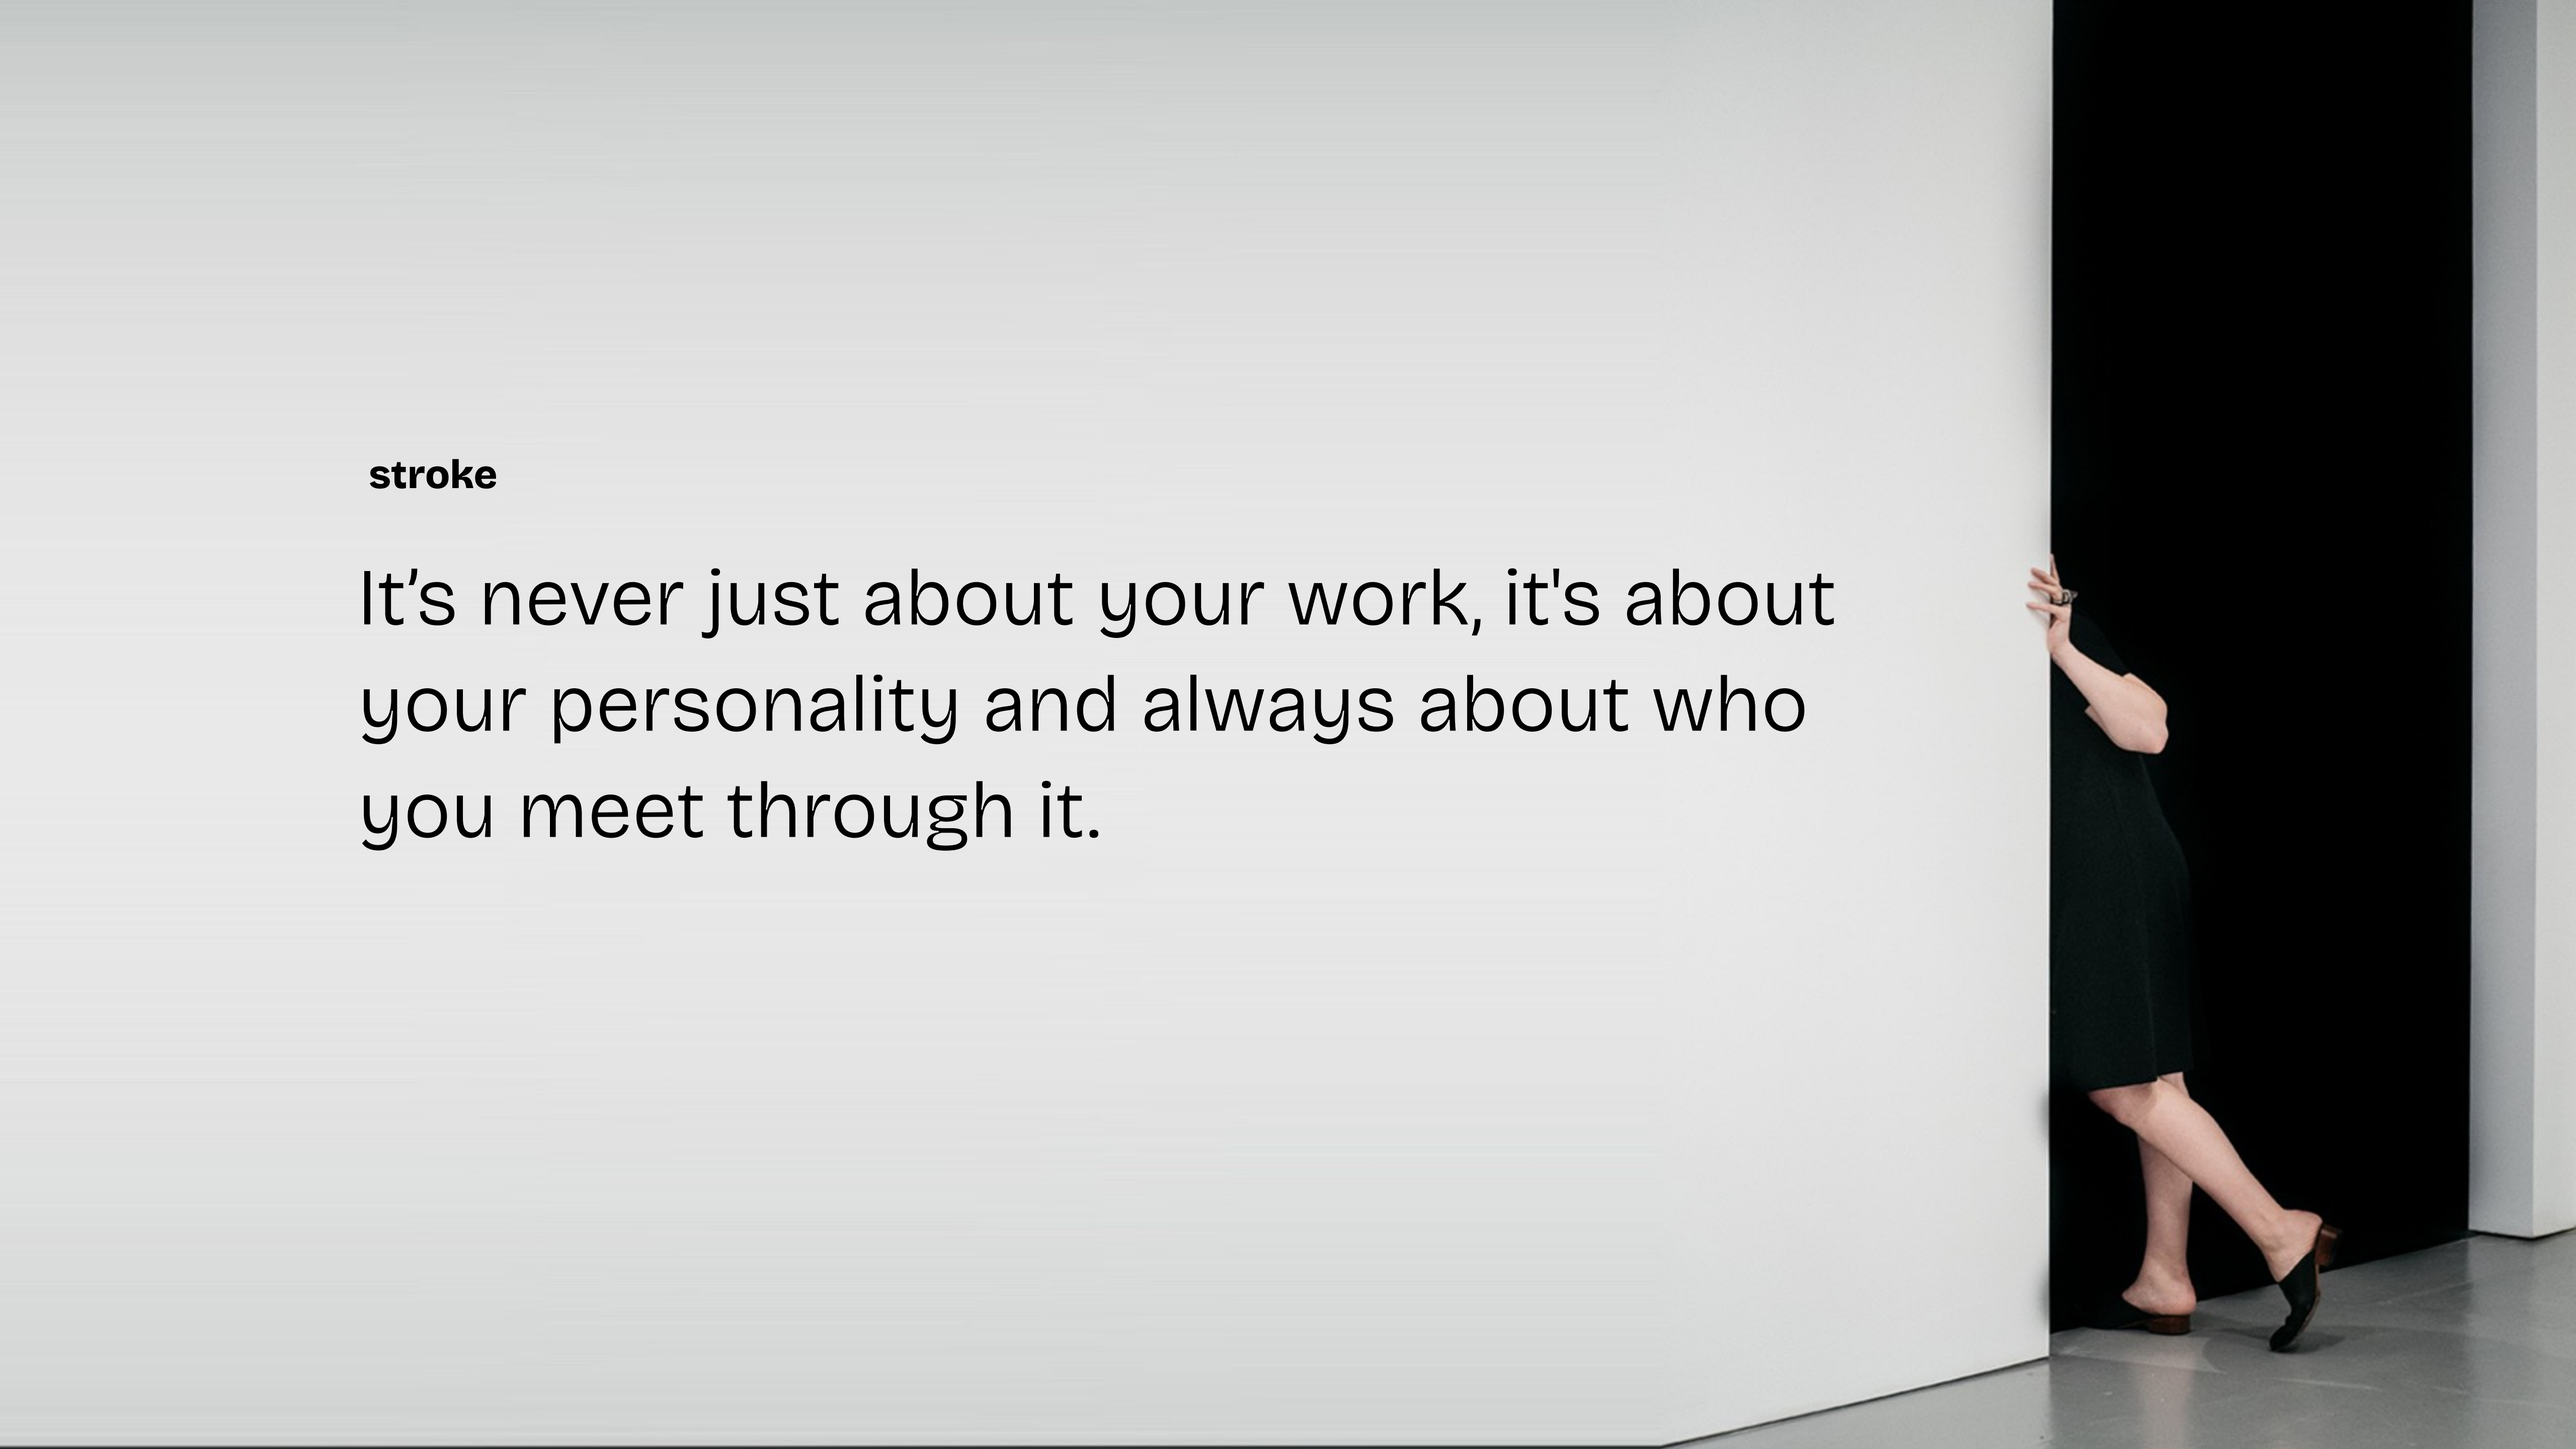
Find your people. Live the moment.

stroke is, of course, a sales fair – but above it all, it is a place of belonging: making art, discovering art, talking about art, and buying art – this is what we're bringing together for over 18 years. It's this connection that turns a participation into an experience.

It creates a place where you feel like a vibrant part of the art world.

stroke

It’s never just about your work, it's about your personality and always about who you meet through it.

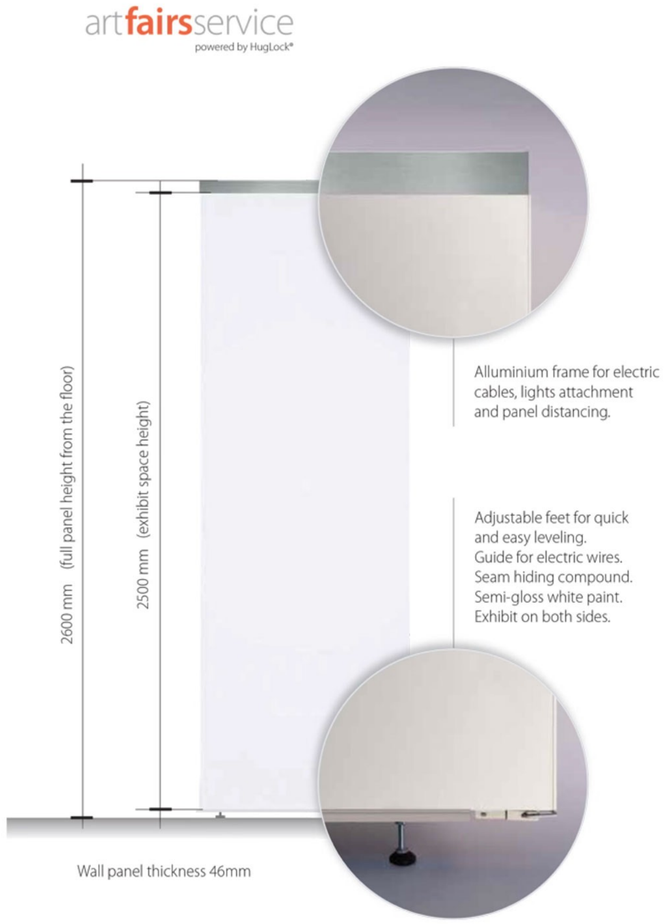


Unsere Location

Charming & unique

In 1810, the first structures were built in the middle of the Isar River on the approximately 3.6-hectare Praterinsel. Initially, the site served as an amuse-ment park, before becoming the “Royal Bavarian Privileged Spirits, Liqueur and Vinegar Factory” 60 years later. Since 1988, the historic buildings, alongside various other uses, have been home to Munich’s vibrant arts and cultural scene.

Due to its unique architecture, Praterinsel cannot be compared to conventional exhibition halls. The venue features three exhibition spaces in the main building and one additional space in the adjacent building. These include the “Füllhalle” on the ground floor, the “Zollgewölbe” in the basement, and the so-called “Wurzelkeller,” which combines elements of both a basement and a ground-floor space.



Ausstattung

Our exhibition stand construction is handled by artfairsservice, which also works on fairs such as ART KARLSRUHE, Enter Art Fair Copenhagen, Art Düsseldorf or Affordable Art Fair.

Participation

Due to the historic architecture of Praterinsel, we do not rent out floor space as such, but rather wall space (wall length).
